A TRADUCER KILLED.

Though Living Apart From His Wife

A Husband Thinks Enough of Her Good Name to Shoot Her Slanderer.

By the Associated Press.

SELMA, Cal., March 27.—G. F. Jordan shot and killed Boyd Balthrop this afternoon. Jordan and his wife have been living apart several months. A scandal has been in circulation that Balthrop claimed that he had been intimate with Mrs. Jordan.

Jordan says he heard the scandal and when he asked Balthrop about it the latter refused to answer, but struck at him and attempted to draw a revolver, but Jordan got his gun first and shot Balthrop through the heart. Balthrop and Mrs. Jordan had been partners in a restaurant business, but dissolved this morning as a result of the scandal.

REPLACING UNION SAILORS.

Japanese to be Imported to Succeed Strikers.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—Boarding masters are making arrangements, it is said, to import several hundred Japanese from the north to take the place of the striking sailors. The Japanese can probably be secured for $25 a month while union sailors demand $35. The importation of any considerable number of Japanese will undoubtedly stir up the lawless element on the water front.

A YOUTHFUL MURDERER.

A Twelve-Year-Old Boy Arrested at San Jose, Cal.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 27.—Charley Hogerden, a 12-year-old boy, was arrested today on a charge of murder. While in company with several other boys, who were annoying a Chinaman, he struck the Chinaman's horse with a stone.

The horse ran away and the Chinese was thrown out of his wagon and killed.

BOGUS BULLION.

Attempt to Cover the Shortage at the Carson Mint.

CARSON, Nev., March 27.—The Tribune this evening contains a statement claiming to be authoritative that a bogus bar of bullion composed of some valueless composition has been discovered to have been substituted for a bar of gold bullion to cover the mint shortage.

This is one of the bars received by the present minter and refiner Harris from the previous administration at its stamped value. Rumors are current that arrests will shortly be made but nothing definite can be learned.

THE VICEROY MAY DIE.

Japan in that Event Would be a Sufferer.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—It is known that advice have been received in official circles that serious results are feared from the wound received by Li Hung Chang.

It is generally believed that his death would prevent Japan from receiving as good terms as she intended to insist upon.

BRUTAL AND FATAL.

Death of a College Foot Ball Player.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The coroner held an inquest today over George B. Bohen, the Georgetown university foot ball player who died from injuries received from playing foot ball.

The jury's verdict was that Bohen came to his death by foul play, for which it was unable to fix the responsibility. The testimony was that the play was most brutal.

WANT IT ALONE.

Mass Meeting in the Matter of the High School

Favors a Distinct District for Phoenix.

Arguments for and Against a Union High School.

Opponents Fear That a Union District Would Be Unwieldy and Unmanageable.

The expression of opinion by the mass meeting at the Central school building last night was against a union high school district and in favor of a high school for the Phoenix district alone. The attendance was small but if it had been greater it would have settled nothing since the matter is still left under the law in the hands of the trustees and the voters.

The meeting was organized by the election of Gen. Sampson chairman and G. A. Mintz secretary. Mr. T. W. Hine offered a resolution favoring the formation of a district made up of Phoenix district and the adjoining districts, thus forming a district with a radius of about five miles. Mr. Logan offered a substitute differing only slightly from the original resolution. The subject was discussed at considerable length. Objections to the resolution of Mr. Hine were that a union district would be in the first place an unwieldy district and provocative of friction between the city and country divisions of it; that it would necessitate the building of a new school house for the accommodation of pupils from the country; that it would constitute a dual and awkward public school system. These objections were met by Superintendent Wollam who said that whether the high school should be established solely for Phoenix, whether it should be a union school, or whether no high school at all should be established, the erection of a new building for the next year would be a necessity. The schools with an attendance greater by 200 than last year had inadequate room. He believed that there would be an equal increase next year. Territorial Superintendent Netherton, the author of the law, explained its provisions.

Mr. Hine, in support of his resolution, said that with no other idea in view than economy, to say nothing of the argument in favor of residents of outlying districts, a union high school should be established. Its support instead of becoming a burden to taxpayers of Phoenix district alone, would be distributed throughout an area of 120 square miles. The assessable value of property within this area at say the low rate of $10 an acre would reach nearly a million dollars, from which an adequate revenue for the maintenance of the school would be derived. The expense of a union school would only slightly exceed the expense of an exclusive local high school.

J. Y. T. Smith opposed the union district on economic grounds. Disregarding the statement of Superintendent Wollam that a new school house would have to be built in any event, he believed that a proposition to vote bonds for a new building for union school purposes would be voted down. Several other gentlemen presented views on the subject, after which the matter of adopting Mr. Logan's substitute for Mr. Hine's resolution was placed before the meeting. Mr. Smith offered an amendment favoring a high school district in Phoenix district alone. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 26 to 7.

After the adjournment of the meeting County Superintendent Crouse caused to be posted legal notices of the election to be held on April 20 for the determination of the matter of a high school.

A TRAIN LOAD OF TOOLS

For the Rio Verde Canal Enterprise.

A Big Consignment, Only the First of a Series of Trainloads en Route to Phoenix.

The beginning of construction on the Rio Verde canal enterprise is not far off, and when it begins it will be on an extensive scale.

A trainload of material belonging to the contractors, Donald Grant & Co. and Langdon, Linton & Co., is now en route from Minneapolis by the way of the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix railway. Commercial Agent Smith received a telegram yesterday saying that the train had just passed Sioux City, Ia. It is being given a special run and will reach Phoenix in four or five days. There are several trainloads of material, horses, graders outfits, etc., to follow. The freight business has been obtained by the North and South road after long negotiations carried on at both ends of the line, and is so extensive that in itself it involves a small fortune. The work will be begun on the irrigation enterprise as soon as possible after the arrival of the graders' outfit.

WOMEN LITIGANTS.

A Question of Salary and Flying Household Utensils.

A case with women litigants was tried in Justice Johnstone's court yesterday. It was a civil suit or as nearly civil as a suit could be under the circumstances. The plaintiff was a Mrs. Ward who tried to recover from a Mrs. Brainerd about $40 due as a nurse and housekeeper. The defendant claimed that at the rate at which Mrs. Ward was working her bill would not have amounted to $40 in a thousand years. That is, she was working for her board. Finally there was a disagreement and a threatened war, in which various household utensils were to figure as missiles. Mr. Brainerd, the supposed patient, it is said, expressed vigorous dissatisfaction with the manner in which she was being cared for by getting out of bed and assaulting her nurse who said she struck her on the side of the face too low to cause a discoloration of the eye. The assaulted nurse regretted that the blow was so ineffectual, as a black eye would have been an eloquent witness in the impending proceedings. There was no special evidence furnished except by parties to the case and as the burden of proof rested upon the plaintiff judgment was rendered for the defendant.

THE IMMIGRATION BOARD.

The Governor Has Already Given It a Task.

A Proposition to Make an Inexpensive Advertising Medium For Arizona.

Governor Hughes will in a few days issue a circular request to the members of the board of immigration commissioners of each county, requesting statistical information of their respective counties for his next annual report to the secretary of the interior. The information sought will include the population of each county, number of schools, pupils and teachers; churches and fraternal societies, the real and assessed values of all property, the acreage of land under agriculture and horticulture, and the value of the product of farms, ranges and mines; the irrigation canals and their capacities, the opportunities for homes and investments, the climatic advantages and the general progress of the county during the year. It is the intention of the governor to secure exact statistical information through these commissioners of their respective counties and to give each county a separate place in his annual report and to secure publication of an edition of 25,000 or more copies at the expense of the federal government. These reports will be published and sent throughout the world without any expense to the territory.

This will be but one of the many fruits which will result from the new board of immigration commissioners, and while the cost to the counties of these commissioners will be nearly nominal, the territory will get many thousands of dollars in printing through the department at Washington. And thus it appears that Arizona will have inaugurated a system of advertising its resources at little or no cost, which will be far in advance of any state or territory in the Union.

CHINESE IN COURT.

One of the Parties Arrested for Stealing Evidence.

There was excitement in Chinatown yesterday over the approaching trial of Long Foy, arrested the night before for the robbery of Bang Loo. Enissaries from the Mongolian quarter were sent out early to find the magistrate before whom the case was to be tried.

One agent visited Justice Kincaid. He said Bang Loo was not right in his head. He was an irritant in Chinese society. He had not been robbed of any money because he never had any. "He no good," said the agent to the justice; "he come to you for complaint, you tell him to go 'way, go to helle."

The case came on later before Justice Johnstone. The prosecuting witness in the course of his evidence said that the money of which he had been despoiled was in the pocket of a coat which he had temporarily laid aside. The defense denied that he owned a coat and he was sent out to bring it in as an exhibit. He returned with it, but later in the day was arrested on the complaint of another Chinaman charging him with stealing it for the occasion. The original case was continued until today.

Died of His Wounds.

OAKLAND, Cal., March 27.—William Baynon, keeper of the "Red House" resort who was shot on Monday last by Frank J. Simpson a livery man and contractor, died today.

NO SIGN LEFT.

The End of the Hawaiian Rebellion.

Adjournment of the Military Commission.

Before Which Nearly 200 Rebels Were Convicted.

The Attitude of the United States Strengthens British Interests in the Islands.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—The Associated Press correspondent writes as follows: Honolulu, March 20.—Martial law was declared off March 18. The military commission has been adjourned and the larger part of the 190 prisoners brought before this body are now working out their sentences in the quarries or on the roads.

The disposition of Liliuokalani is causing not a few rumors, but government officials state that nothing has been done or suggested other than is already in force. Attorney General Smith on being asked what disposition was to be made of the ex-queen said: "She is already disposed of. No advances have been made to the government on her part. She will be kept where she is." The expenses of the rebellion will undoubtedly reach $100,000.

The failure of the cable appropriation in congress has in no degree lessened interest in cable matters. The attitude of the United States furnishes food for much adverse criticism and gives British sympathizers ground for an argument that is hard to meet. In an interview regarding an appropriation for a cable project, a member of the cabinet said today: "We have received no proposition or suggestion from any private source. We are ready at any time to consider any proposition that may advance the interests of this nation but thus far no assistance for a cable has been requested."

THEY ARE PLEASED.

Chicago Capitalists in the City.

Representatives of a Syndicate of Young Men Desirous of Profitable Investments.

Geo. T. Williams, for the past twenty-eight years secretary and treasurer of the Union Stock yards of Chicago and at the present time vice-president of the Live Stock National bank, accompanied by J. W. Kelley, a prominent stock dealer and capitalist also of the Union Stock yards, arrived in Phoenix last Sunday, after an extensive tour throughout the entire west. The object of this visit of these gentlemen is to investigate ranch and other properties for a number of young men of Chicago who have formed a syndicate for the purpose of investing their earnings.

Mr. Williams has retired from active business, his health being somewhat impaired, and he is seeking a favorable climate, and of course as his life has been a busy one he also wants a favorable business location for the benefit of his sons.

He is not slow in saying that Phoenix and the Salt River valley surprised him and that he is not only considering the advisability of moving here himself but will make a very flattering report to the gentlemen in Chicago, whose interests he has in charge.

Both Messrs. Williams and Kelley have been shown over the valley by Maj. R. M. Wood of the Arizona Improvement company. They will remain in Phoenix three or four days longer.

A WAITING GAME.

A Lack of School Funds for the Closing Quarter.

There is one class of citizens who believe that the law delaying the sale of property for delinquent taxes is not what it should be. They are the school teachers, whose demands for salaries for the quarter about to close will find if not an absent fund, a fund inadequate to meet the demands. The most embarrassed person in consequence is County Superintendent Crouse, who has been promising all comers that matters would be fixed up next Monday. It is plain that they will not be, but the county superintendent on the night of the last day of the quarter will make an apportionment of all the funds in sight and make the money go as far as possible. There will be an equitable distribution of it so that every teacher will be paid something. The balance may not be paid until after June 25, as the county will have no certain income until after that date.
